NEW YORK, January 30.—The feature of the security markets to-day was the increased activity in bonds. Dealings in this department reached the encurous total for a half-holiday of, 32,251,090, and prices moved up anywhere from 1-2 to 21-2 per cent. The inability to lend money at anything like paying rates accounts for the steady absorption and advance in mortgages. The rise in bonds
